3. Success Stories

Minutes

Dr. George Philhower, Superintendent, introduced Freshman Eli Manship to share about a special project he has been working on to earn his Eagle Scout Badge. His goal was to make our amazing school an even better place both now and in the future. Eli listed several projects that he has been working on, including:

- Fixing a drainage area next to the basketball courts that was flooding, causing mud to be brought inside
- Reseeding the area dug up to reroute the water flow
- Resurfacing the basketball court and painting regulation lines on it as well as our Royal Pride motto and a new EH logo that he designed
- Painting a hopscotch pattern along the sidewalk
- Repairing the wet and muddy crossing area to the north with stepping stones and ground cover
- Building picnic tables with military grade vinyl covers in Royal Blue
- Getting height-adjustable basketball goals

Eli had many people and organizations to thank for their part in these projects, from helping with manual labor or donating items to donating financially towards them. It has taken almost 100 hours of work to complete and several thousand dollars. He thanked Signorama, Otto's Painting, Golden Painting, Mozzi's Pizza, Family Leisure, Wilkinson Insurance, Mike Leonard Excavating, Daniel Tumelty at 84 Lumber, Hancock Health Foundation, Joyner Homes, Greenfield Banking, Retta Livengood, Ninestar, Charlottesville Lions Club and many people in the community who contributed. In appreciation to Scout Master Dan Larrison, Scout Leader, Joe Ricker, Scout Master Ty Hunt and Scout Troop 293, Eli recognized the many people who were a part of bringing this project to life. Eli especially thanked those at Eastern Hancock, the leaders, administrators, teachers, staff and school board for inspiring and supporting our students to always serve others and give back to our community.
